Device Safety Information (DSI) Placeholder

The above Device Safety Information (DSI) is published by MHRA and not NHS National Services Scotland (NSS). For this reason it cannot be uploaded to the NSS website. However, you can view it on the MHRA website by clicking here.

MHRA has published the DSI in partnership with devolved administrations. It applies across the UK and within Scotland it should be implemented by local authorities, health boards and contractors providing publicly funded health and social care services.

A PDF version of the alert has been distributed direct to the Incidents and Alerts Safety Officer (IASO) Network. All health boards and local authorities in Scotland have a named IASO and you can find their details here.

If you are affected by the above DSI but have not received a copy, we recommend you contact your IASO as soon as possible. This is important to ensure you are not missed from future alert distributions on the same or similar subject matter.
